There will be many good attractions at the theaters this coming week. To-morrow night A. M. Palmer's company will begin an engagement of three nights and a matince, presenting the great American play "Alabama," by Augustus Thomas, which has become a distinguished success. The scene is laid in Talladega, an almost isolated community. The play is domestic in character and in it the young dramatist, Mr. Thomas, has displayed great artistic and poetic sympathies. Life and character are very vividly protrayed, some of the acts dating back to the rebellion. The plot is woven around a love story. Colonel Preston, an old planter, is the father of Harry Preston, a railroad projector, who comes to the place under the name of Captain Davenport. The latter became estranged from his father for joining the Union army, and he is supposed to have been killed in battle. When he returns to his old home he finds that his wife has died and that his daughter is a grown young lady. Carey Preston falls in love with a Northerner and Captain Davenport's assistant. Colonel Preston tries to prevent the match, prompted to it by sectional hatred. The couple prepare to elope, but are prevented by Captain Davenport. Mr. Thomas has succeeded in astonishing the critics and placed himself in the front rank of to-day's dramatists. "Alabama" will be one of the great plays of the season.

Nellie McHenry and her celebrated company will appear at English's to-morrow night in the first of four performances in this city, including Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and Wednesday matinee.

Miss McHenry has achieved a great reputation as a dashing comedienne, and has had many artistic triumphs. The comedy premany artistic triumphs. The comedy presented by this company is clean and wholesome, sparkling with wit and enlivened with hearty humor. The play is entitled "A Night at the Circus," and it gives Miss McHenry ample scope for the display of her versatile talent. The play closes with an act showing the dressing-room of the great Imperial Circus. From the ring with-out comes M'lle Electro on horseback with a dash, followed by a wild man from Borneo, clowns and the usual kind of circus celebrities. All the performers are seen preparing for the circus arena, and the dialogue which accompanies the amusing performance is of the wittiest description Musical numbers of a very pleasant character are intermingled here and there throughout the whole performance. Press notices of Miss McHenry and her company are full of praise. The programme pre-sented is free from anything objectionable.

The Henry Burlesque Company will be seen at English's on Thursday and Friday evenings. This is one of the strongest and most refined burlesque and specialty shows on the road this season, containing such people as George H. Wood, Conroy and Mack, Will West, Mlle. Texer-Kanas, Christine Blessing, Marjorie Maxwell and others. The opening divertisement is out of the old order, quick and entertaining. Twenty girls are to be seen in this part, and several beautiful tableaux are introduced. The olio is full of clever acts. The performance concludes with a travesty on the "Tar and Tartar," entitled "The Ta and the Ta Ta," by George H. Wood, which is very musical, and introduces the operetta ballet and the dance la Cladoche. The scenery is bright and appropriate, and the costumes new and gorgeous. Besides the burlesque, the Henry programme presents a scenic, mechanical, farcial, musical bur-letta, which, for the want of a more taking title, they have named "Our Lady Bach-

A new production by Dan McCarthy entitled "Cruiskeen Lawn," a picturesque Irish comedy, will be at the Park Theater all this week. The play had a great run at the Third-avenue Theater, New York, this season. The well-laid plot and the touching incidents have made it a phenomenal success. A novel idea of dissolving views is introduced of all the well-known points of interest in Ireland by the well-known shadowgraphist, Professor Campbell. The cast is strong, including well-known artists. The singing is catching and the dancing is very clever. The piece is equipped with splendid stage setting, and the mechanical effects are beautiful.

Commencing on Friday evening next. "A High Roller," a new spectacular farcecomedy, will be the attraction at the Grand for three performances. Almost too pretentious to be called a skit, although built on mirth provoking lines, its plot is the satirization of the troubles of a barn-storming theatrical troupe who have invaded a trust, and asking the opinion of the cigarcountry town on Long island. The 'squire of the town becomes enamored of the leading lady and for that reason tries to get them out of their financial indisposition by becoming their manager and backer, leaving his maiden sister, a middle aged person of decidedly positive ideas as to all things theatrical, whom he finds impossible to reconstruct. Fortune smiles on the hayseed manager, and he eventually becomes an ideal "High Roller," and a man after the fakir's own heart, as he spends his money like water. Archie Gordon, a New York newspaper man, and own Barney Fagan, are responsible for a "High Roller" and those who have admired his creative efforts for others in the past, will raise high their expectations for this, his latest work. The cast embraces some of the best known

Mr. George Riddle, of Cambridge, Mass. the popular Shakspeareau reader, will give a course of three entertainments at Plymouth Church, beginning next Friday, Oct. 9., reading on that evening selections from Charles Dickens, Miss Pross and Mme De Farge-"The Execution of Sidney Carton," "Tale of Two Cities," "Miss Squeers's Tea Party," "The End of Dotheboy's Hall," "Nicholas Nickleby," "M'lle. Hortense and Mr. Talkinghorn," "Bleak House." Tues-day, Oct. 13, "Macbeth." Friday evening. Oct. 16, miscellaneous programme: "Come Here," translated from the German for Mr. Riddle: "Cardinal Wolsey-King Henry VIII;" "A Modern Sermon," anonymous: "Carcasonne," from the French; "The Boat Race in Jock Hall," by Robert Grant, arranged by the author for Mr. Riddle; "The Rehearsal of the Ruggles Family for a Christmas Dinner," "The Sleeping Car," by Howells. The programmes are varied, giving a fine opportunity for the display of Mr. Riddle's rare powers as a reader. Tickets now on sale at D. H. Baldwin's,

Richard Mansfield has less than two weeks more at the Garden Theater for his production of "Nero." It is received with much favor and attracts large audiences. Nellie McHenry is this week in the South doing a large business with "A Night at the Circus," which has proven as great a hit down there as it is in the North.-Dunlap's two or three years, has given place to well-filled cheeks and healthy color. Elmer E. Vance's realistic play, "The Limited Mail," is at Havlin's Theater, Chicago, and "standing room only" is the rule at each performance. The railroad train running at full speed across the stage and the startling electric effects aid in preserving the popularity of the play.

John G. Wilson, the American play-wright, is convinced that "A Royal Divorce," which Grace Hawthorne is now presenting in London, is an adaptation or a version of his own play which he submitted to the actress a few years ago, and he will at once take steps to protect his rights.

Parisian theatrical managers, driven to desperation by the ambitious, stage-struck girl, have combined in a schedule of charges for time occupied in hearing her rehearsals.

The English translation of a sign to be encountered at the chief theatrical office of the French capital is as follows: "Any person desirous of speaking to the manager is requested, first, to obtain a ticket of conversation at the pay-desk. Price for one hour, £1; half an hour, 10s; a quarter of an hour, 5s.

Last week an enterprising Pennsylvania-street confectioner, thinking to win the good will of the immense theater crowds and thus insure a visit after the play, had his advertisement printed on several thous-and neat fans for free distribution at one of the theaters. Owing to the heat they seemed to make a great stir, so to speak, and the confectioner congratulated himself on the success of his scheme. He attended the theater himself Thursday night and at the end of the first act noticed the ushers going through the aisles with his fans. To his amazement he discovered that they found ready sale at 5 cents a-piece. He went home with a heavy heart and says that he has quit the fan advertising

Miss MacBride, of New York city, a talented and noted elecutionist, is now in the city, preparing and training some classes in elecution, for the purpose of giving a public entertainment entitled "The Hallowe'en Fantasma," at Tomlinson Hall, Oct. 27 and 28, for the benefit of Memorial Presbyterian Church. This is one of a series of entertainments she has given with great success in New York city and many other leading Eastern cities, and which are highly recomshe is training for a similar entertainment to be given at an early date.

CIGAR-MAKERS' UNION.

Important Questions of Benefits Settled Yesterday-In Session This Week. The cigar-makers decided several important questions yesterday at its convention at Mozart Hall. That section of the constitution which refers to the loans to members was so amended that hereafter all members who have loans will have to report to their financial secretary the amount of weekly wages they are earning. This is done because the loan members are required to pay back their loans at the rate of 10 per cent. of their weekly wages. Hereafter the fines of members must be paid at the rate of 25 per cent. of their wages every week, instead of 15 per cent. as heretofore. An effort was made by some the delegates to abolish the out-of-work benefit, but after a lengthy discussion, pro and con the movement failed by a vote of 192 nays to 63 ayes. Members who are applicants for the out-of-work benefit will from now on be compelled to register their names every day for which they expect a benefit, and this register must not be kept in any building in which there is a saloon. The sick benefit heretofore has paid $5 a week for a period of eight weeks, and $3 a week which payment shall cease. It will hereafter be necessary for a man to be in the union a year to derive the advantages of the sick benefit. It used to only require a six months', membership. The international union allows a member $40 in case his wife dies. The same amount will hereafter be paid to a member in case his mother dies and the member be her only support. In that clause of the death bene-fit which refers to funerals, the word "cre-mation" is inserted in each case after "funeral." The latter part of the afternoon was devoted largely to the discussion of the destiny of the "stogy" or "toby" makers. One delegate offered a resolution that contemplated the adoption of a red label for all stogy cigars, but the majority of the delegates looked upon a maker of stogies in about the same light as a tenement-house worker or Chinese coolie. The resofor eight weeks thereafter. The convention altered this so that $5 a week will be paid continuously for thirteen weeks, after lution was lost when put to a vote. The convention went into executive session at 5:30 to decide some important measures that was deemed madvisable for the public to have. The cigar-makers will be in session part of if not all all of this week, as only about one-half of the committee on constitution's report has been acted upon. President Strasser received a telegram from the Tobacco-leaf Publishing Company, of New York, informing him that it was reported that the cigar manu facturers of New York are forming a big makers' convention on the matter.

The banquet of the cigar-makers at Tom-linson Hall on Friday night was a large affair, nearly five hundred ladies and gen-tlemen being present. President Strasser was toast-master, and performed the duties of that post with his becoming dignity and delightful grace. The speakers and their toasts were as follows: Samuel Gompers, "The American Federation of Labor;" Frank Abrahams, "The International Union;" Frank Valesh, "The Blue Label;" Charles Dold, "Labor Legislation;" John F. Schreck, "Local Organizations."

The hall was very tastefully decorated with drapery and flowers, and the tables were laden with fresh flowers of all kinds.

were laden with fresh flowers of all kinds. The banqueters sat down at 9:30, and arose for the dance at about midnight. The tables and chairs were cleared from the room, and the night was danced merrily gether an unquestionable array of talent—

Gompers and the Street-Car Men. The Street-car brotherhood held a meeting early yesterday morning, at which President Gompers, according to the previous programme, was present, and made an address. The recent strike of the stablemen, resulting in a desultory refusal by the brotherhood to sustain them, indicated, local labor leaders say, a lack of knowledge of union principles in the latter organization, and Mr. Gompers's address was intended to build up the motormen, conductors and drivers in devotion to the cause. The recent action of the brotherhood in accepting an increase on a compromise in which the drivers were not benefited has also been construed as lacking in the es-sentials of brotherhood. Mr. Gompers received marked attention and spoke with much felicity and power. The meeting was an open one, but was necessarily held so late in order to allow all the members to be present that no outsiders asked admittance. A Queer Accident.

Last evening as Jacob Mueller was crossing Washington street, about 7 o'clock, he was suddenly thrown to the ground and dragged some distance over the streets. On examination it was seen that a long wire that had become fastened to one of the Illinois and Washingtonstreet electric cars, and, dragging some distance behind, had caught him by the foot, throwing him to the ground. What might have been a serions accident was averted by the prompt action the conductor of the car.

Afflicted Three Years by Dreadful Skin and Blood Disease, With Intense Pain and Loss of Hair.

All Other Remedies Fail. Relieved In stantly and Cured in Four Weeks by the Cuticura Remedies.

I have a few words to say regarding the Cuticura Remedies. They have cured me in four weeks' time from a Skin and Blood Disease which have had for over three years. At certain times, my skin would be very sore, and always kept cracking and peeling off in white scales. In cold weather my face was one mass of scales. When in the cold air the pain was intense; it would almost bring tears to my eyes, and my blood also being in a poor condition, with a loss of hair. I have tried every known remedy that was recommerded to me, but it was of no use, and gave me very little benefit. So hearing of your Cuticura Remedies, I concluded to give them a trial. The first application gave almost instant relief. In a few weeks' time I found myself cured, and I am thankful for what they have done for me. Your Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to those who may have the opportunity to use them. I can recommend them to any one.
